Thank you for your interest in Edgewater Natural Family Medicine for your families health care needs.

For your Free 10 Minute "Talk to a Doc" Phone Consult, we will call you as close to your scheduled time to discuss your questions, concerns, and health goals.

Unfortunately, we are not allowed by law to diagnose or set up specific treatments without a full intake, but we will answer your questions as completely as possible. We can and will answer every general question as well as provide case-study and research-based answers that match your situation generally. Our doctors are very generous with their information.

The purpose of this appointment is educational only: to give you more information so that you can make a more informed choice about your health. If you booked your appointment online, it helps us if you write in the details of what your health concerns are and what your health goals are in the space provided.

We offer many options for to meet your health goals and needs. While we often refer to ourselves as a clinic who handles complex and unresolved cases, we are a full service general practice. We love helping families, kids, adults and seniors. But a common story we hear from many of our patients is that they have already seen 10 or more doctors or healers and not received long lasting results.

Our Focus is combines Naturopathic Medicine, Functional Medicine, Autonomic Response Testing (Klinghardt), Frequency Specific Microcurrent, and a host of other services and approaches. We offer care for women's health, family health, chronic pain, chronic infections, metabolic diseases, lyme diseases and a host of other chronic or unresolved conditions that you may be suffering from. We provide research based, science focused advice and treatments for patients looking for a natural approach to their health care and goals.

At Edgewater Natural Family Medicine you have the assurance of a Doctor level of education combined with a comprehensive knowledge of natural and alternative treatments that are research and clinically validated.

Our motto is "Your symptoms tell a story. We listen." It's a key part of our approach. You, as the patient, are in charge and we consider your intimate knowledge of your body as a key to your healing journey. We look forward to partnering with you in your healing journey.

Thank you for your interest in Edgewater Natural Family Medicine. And have a great day.
